Consumer Account Disclosure

The following deposit product information applies to consumer accounts at Numerica Credit Union (“Numerica”) as of the effective date shown below. Numerica may offer other terms or amend the terms listed in this disclosure from time to time. Each account holder agrees to the terms and conditions in the Consumer Account Disclosure and acknowledges that it is part of the Membership and Account Agreement and Checking Account Guide. Except as specifically described, the following disclosures apply to all consumer share accounts.

Rate Information

The Annual Percentage Yield is a percentage rate that reflects the total amount of dividends to be paid on an account based on the dividend rate and frequency of compounding for an annual period. For Sequel Checking accounts, the Dividend Rate and Annual Percentage Yield may change at any time as determined by the Credit Union. The Dividend Rates and Annual Percentage Yields are the prospective rates and yields that the Credit Union anticipates paying for the applicable dividend period.

Dividend Compounding and Crediting

For dividend bearing accounts, dividends are compounded and credited monthly. The Dividend Period is the period of time at the end of which an account earns dividend credit. The Dividend Period begins on the first calendar day of the period and ends on the last calendar day of the period.

Accrual of Dividend

For all accounts, dividends will begin to accrue on non-cash deposits (e.g. checks) on the business day you make the deposit to your account.

Balance Information

To open any account you must pay a one-time membership entrance fee as stated in the Fee Schedule. Some accounts may have additional minimum opening deposit requirements. The minimum balance requirements applicable to each account are stated in the Checking Account Guide. For accounts using the Daily Balance method, dividends are calculated by applying a daily periodic rate to the balance in the account each day.

Account Limitations

No transaction limitations apply to checking accounts unless otherwise stated.

Fees for Overdrawing Accounts

Fees for overdrawing your account may be imposed on each check, in-person withdrawal, ATM transaction, one-time debit transaction (if the member has opted-in to Courtesy Pay for ATM and one-time debit card transactions), or other electronic means that is drawn on an insufficient available account balance. The entire balance in your account may not be available for withdrawal, transfer or paying a check or item. You may consult the Funds Availability Notice for information regarding the availability of funds in your account. Fees for overdrawing your account may be imposed for each overdraft, regardless of whether we pay or return the item or transaction. If we have approved an overdraft protection limit for your account, such fees may reduce your approved limit. Please refer to the Fee Schedule for current fee information. For ATM and one-time debit transactions, you must opt-in to Numerica’s Courtesy Pay in order for the transaction amount to be covered under the plan. Without your consent, Numerica may not authorize and pay an overdraft resulting from these types of transactions. Services and fees for overdrafts are shown in the document the Credit Union uses to capture the member’s opt-in choice for overdraft protection and the Fee Schedule.

The terms appearing are accurate as of September 6, 2017. Numerica Credit Union may offer other rates for these accounts from time to time. For the most current rates available, please call 800.433.1837. This credit union is federally insured by the National Credit Union Administration.
